

As of January 2019, Utah had an estimated 2,798 experiencing homelessness on any given day, as reported by Continuums of Care to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). In an effort to help alleviate the problem of homelessness, the Food & Care Coalition is building a new housing complex. Here's how you can help:

ABOUT THE FOOD & CARE COALITION

The mission of the Food & Care Coalition is to alleviate hunger and diminish the plights of poverty for those who enter our doors. Our primary objectives include finding suitable housing, teaching financial accountability, facilitating an elevation in personal morals and values, and helping each patron achieve their full potential.

We believe in the inherent worth of people and embrace the philosophy that trusting relationships between patron, staff, and volunteer are vital in realizing this end. In order to succeed, charity and compassion from the community must be met by accountability and a personal desire to learn and grow by those served. The Food & Care Coalition by design, offers daily opportunities for the community to support, influence and participate both in the policy making and operation of agency programs to meet these objectives.

This approach creates an environment where homeless men, women, and children can restore their self-esteem, retain their human dignity, and regain the power and abilities necessary to become self-sufficient and productive members of our community.

- Founded in 1988, the coalition has served 2.5 million meals since it's opening.
- Volunteers have contributed 1.1 million hours of time to helping others.
- We have a 68% success rate of housing transition without recidivism.

Unlike other FACC operations, this project will be self-sustaining.

A "POCKET NEIGHBORHOOD" CONCEPT

The project will be built as a Pocket Neighborhood, which reflects a "community feel" instead of a "project feel." The new neighborhood will be built around important support services, including education, medical, dental and mental health services, and employment opportunities.

For those of us fortunate enough to have a place to call home, we understand that it is about much more than just a roof overhead. Home means safety, security, and well-being. Home connects us to friends, church, family, and even a beloved pet. Home provides food and warmth, fosters love and a sense of belonging and a respite from life's daily challenges.
